Data files not found in the Fuel reports folder...

When your fuel data files are saved in Windows XP or earlier the default location is normally...

C:\program files\smartfill94\fuel reports

In some situations when using Windows 7 and Vista, the operating system automatically saves the files in this folder path...

C:\Users\YOUR USER NAME\AppData\Local\VirtualStore\Program Files\SmartFill94\Fuel reports

Solution...

The easiest solution, is to simply place a shortcut to the above 'Fuel Reports' folder onto your desktop, and open your fuel data files from there, instead of trying to open them from within the SmartFill program.
